- USBR Drainage Reevaluation (Item 20) – Comments were submitted on the Bureau's studies. The issue will be discussed during the salinity agenda item.
- He attended the 9 August CalEPA Town Meeting in Modesto, and met with Lester Snow of the Department of Water Resources on 22 August.

Al Brizard asked about the Hilmar Cheese underground injection well project. Mr. Pinkos explained that staff is participating in development of the USEPA UIC Permit. Ms. McChesney will check to see if WDRs are needed in addition to the UIC Permit.

BOARD MEMBER COMMUNICATIONS

Karl Longley reported that he had attended:

- Food Processing Session at the 8 August conference in Fresno
- CalEPA Town Hall Meeting in Modesto on 9 August
- Irrigated Lands Technical Issues Committee meeting on 16 August in Rancho Cordova discussing laboratory QA and interpretation of results

- Los Banos National Wildlife Refuge tour on 18 August as part of California Water Institute studies of wetland operations
- Irrigated Lands Technical Issues Committee meeting on 31 August regarding pyrethroids
- CalEPA lead and arsenic bioavailability workshop on 13 September.

Chairman Schneider reported:

- Attending the Irrigated Lands Policy Advisory Committee meeting in Modesto, following which he sent a joint letter with Mr. Brizard concerning the Executive Officer's request for Coalition membership lists.
- Meeting on 10 September with Coalition leaders in follow-up to the request for membership lists. Bill Jennings had requested to attend the meeting, but the Chair felt it best that Mr. Jennings not attend. The Office of the Chief Counsel concurred that this meeting arrangement was acceptable for a process-only discussion. Maintaining a public process is important, and this meeting was a problem with public perception of the openness of the process. In general, excluding interested persons from meetings is not good policy. The outcome of the meeting was a request that the Executive Officer consider extension of the deadline for membership list submittal until 1 November. The Chair reiterated his support for the Executive Officer.
- Talking with Bill Jennings concerning the 10 September meeting with Coalition leaders.
- Attended the CalEPA Town Hall meeting in Modesto
- Attended the Assembly hearing on Delta issues chaired by Assemblywoman Lois Wolk.
- Attended the Department of Pesticide Regulation presentation on groundwater.

Al Brizard reported attendance at all the Irrigated Lands meetings.

Tom Pinkos reported that he was extending the deadline for submittal of Coalition membership lists to 1 November and will be meeting with the Coalitions to discuss the matter. If a resolution cannot be reached, a discussion item will be scheduled for the October Board meeting. Chairman Schneider commented that it is clear the Board has the legal authority to require submission of the Membership Lists; the question is when and how we should exert that authority.

PUBLIC FORUM

Bill Johnson stated that the joint meeting of the State and Regional Water Board gives high priority to Delta water quality issues. He stated that the Board has previously issued WDRs for well injection projects. He recommended adding "agricultural" to the list of waste types on the Board information sheet in the Agenda.

Jeff Palsgaard, Merced County Environmental Health, reported that the County has an active dairy regulatory program. He requested that the Board approve the County program, requested processing of a waiver of WDRs for dairies in the County, and requested waiver of fees within the County. The Board Chair requested staff to report back to the Board in the EO Report on the issue.

Bill Jennings, CSPA, et al., announced that he is no longer with DeltaKeeper. He then expressed dissatisfaction at recent actions by Chairman Schneider, Al Brizard and Beth Jines to undermine staff by making apologies to an intransigent industry that continues to hide farmers from regulation. He stated that there are rampant ex parte communications with agricultural leaders, making it doubtful that the Board can handle the program. He said that the environmental groups are reviewing recent actions by the Board and agricultural industry for possible criminal conspiracy to evade compliance with water quality regulations, and that the announced staff cuts show the need to proceed with General WDRs. He thanked Christopher Cabaldon and Lucille Palmer-Byrd for support of the Executive Officer and staff.

David Cory presented a different perspective on the same events. He said that his coalition is trying hard, and that the tone of the Executive Officer's letter and the statement "not meeting expectations" was devastating, bringing coalition members to question the leadership and efforts of the coalition. He said that the Chairman's letter helped diffuse a critical situation for the coalitions. He expressed appreciation to Chairman Schneider and Al Brizard for their leadership roles in helping keep the coalitions together.

Bill Thomas, South San Joaquin Coalition, stated that there had been no hint that letters were coming out in conversations and meetings just a few days prior to their issuance. He said that sending enforcement letters to the coalitions was unprecedented and very destabilizing, and that there seems to be no recognition that there remains a difference of opinion on how to interpret the State Board decision regarding requiring membership lists when no immediate water quality problem is involved. He said that the timing of the letter was poor when there remain a number of question related to who is a “discharger” under the irrigated lands waiver.

Chairman Schneider thanked Bill Jennings for his comments and stated that the overall process is better for Mr. Jennings’ participation. The Chair stated that major policy issues need to be addressed, and that the efficacy of the coalitions needs to be evaluated on a coalition-by-coalition basis, which should happen in the near future. He stated that he and Al Brizard stepped in to keep the coalition process going following the Executive Officer’s letter, by meeting directly with the coalitions and allowing the coalitions to develop alternatives, and that his and Al’s actions were appropriate to the circumstances, legal, and were made without regrets.

Christopher Cabaldon expressed agreement with Mr. Jennings’ comments. He stated that this week was the logical outgrowth of the path taken by the Chair and other Board members, and that these contacts would violate the codes of most communities. He expressed surprise that anyone deals with the Executive Officer given the recent level of Board member involvement. He stated that the Board must act as a group, not as individuals.

PUBLIC FORUM

Warren Tellefson, CVCWA, thanked for the Board for starting the very important discussion on salinity. He stated that Association members are concerned about salinity for both surface and ground waters, and that there are three general approaches to salinity control, not all of which are feasible in a given situation. He said that the water supply salinity can be improved, but alternate, higher quality water supplies are not always available, and that salt sources within the collection system can be eliminated, but that is not always feasible. He said that current law allows control only over new water softener installation, not existing softeners, and that salinity treatment can be provided, but that it is expensive and brine disposal is a problem. He stated support for development of a statewide salinity strategy.

Bill Jennings, CSPA, et al, spoke to the groundwater issue in the irrigated lands program. He said that the Board's decision on Thursday did embrace the status quo by not including groundwater in the EIR or waiver renewal. He said that there is progress within the irrigated lands program, but there is also a lack of willingness to embrace the overall water quality problems.
